In just its second year as part of Hot August Nights in Reno, Barrett-Jackson has made its way right into the heart of America's largest custom and hot rod community celebration. Over three days, Barrett-Jackson delivered its trademark excitement during its 2nd Annual Hot August Nights Auction at Reno-Sparks Convention Center in Reno, Nevada, selling 342 vehicles and more than 300 collectible automobilia pieces for more than $11 million in sales, at an incredible 99 percent sell-through rate. The Barrett-Jackson Cup competition returned to Reno along with the auction. This has become one of the most anticipated collector car competitions on the circuit, boasting over $110,000 in cash and prizes—the hobby’s largest.

Barrett-Jackson Cup competition 2014

Barrett-Jackson’s partnership with the world’s premier classic car and nostalgia festival, Hot August Nights, began just last year. The Barrett-Jackson Cup was one of the most popular elements of that first year. The 2013 winner was a custom 1969 Ford Torino built by Troy and Jack Trepanier of Rad Rides by Troy. It was a highlight moment when Jack Trepanier, a keystone in the collector car community, accepted the award. Sadly, Jack passed away in March of this year, so Barrett-Jackson dedicated the 2014 Barrett-Jackson Cup in his honor.

2014 Barrett-Jackson Cup becomes Hot August Night staple; Good Guys, AMBR and Ridler winners among “Reno Five” finalists; 1957 Chevrolet Pickup named grand prize winner

2014 Barrett-Jackson Hot August Nights Reno/Lake Tahoe Auction has over $11 million in sales, a 99 percent sell-through rate, more bidders and consignors during its three-day run at the Reno-Sparks Convention Center.

GRAND PRIZE WINNER: This ’57 Chevrolet pickup built by Jason Smith at Hot Rod Garage—a 2013 “Great 8 Truck” at the Detroit Autorama—has a 3-inch top chop, 583-cu.in. big block with Crown “Stack” EFI and one-off billet wheels and rims. The interior by CAR Upholstery has visible VIN tags, tach and many more.

FIRST RUNNER-UP: Built by Rods by JSK, this ’32 Ford four-door is featured on Street Rodder’s August 2014 cover. It boasts an early 1950s race car theme, with Sprint Car steering, modified vintage drum brakes and a shaved and stroked Ford Thunderbird V block V8. A vintage Willys intake was converted to EFI, and a speedo manifold feeds a quick-change rear axle. Body and frame are handmade with suicide doors and ninth-floor eliminated. The interior is hand-stitched “baseball glove” leather by Paul Atkins. It is the winner of the 2014 Street Rod of the Year and 2014 “Great 8 Car” in Detroit.

SECOND RUNNER-UP: This ’34 Chevrolet Phaeton was designed by Chip Foose and built by the winner of the inaugural Barrett-Jackson Cup, Rad Rides by Troy. It features a modified Roadster Shop Chassis with ‘Teague’s’ independent suspension all around. Under the hood, the GM Performance 383 Ram Jet engine with EFI was modified to look like a vintage 1957 Rochester unit. It is shod with CNC machined wheels by Curtis Speed and includes stitched on-dye red leather upholstery by Rad Rides.

THIRD RUNNER-UP: This ’31 Hudson is owned by the Detroit Autorama—was hand-built from a 3300 “parts car” rusted husk body. The rear window and deck are grafted from a later “boat tail” Riviera. Under the hood are two rear-mounted turbochargers that feed a 6.2L, Chevy V8 via a massive intake tube that runs through the cockpit. A custom-built perimeter chassis gives the car its low, wide stance. It rides on billet wheels, and its hand-made interior has been converted to a two-seat sports car layout. The theme draws attention to its rear-mounted turbos.

FOURTH RUNNER-UP: Built by Miranda Built, this ’10 Nova has a twin turbo NASCAR small block Chevy engine, with RideTech pro-touring suspension controlled by an iPad. It rides on Budnik Gasser D wheels, its paint job, a unique orange “metalized” finish, was performed by Charley Hutton. It is a 2014 Goodguys Street Machine of the Year winner and a 2014 Detroit Autorama “Great 8” finalist.

Barrett-Jackson continued to cultivate the hobby by attracting a large number of bidders to the Hot August Nights Reno/ ‘Lake Tahoe’ auction. A healthy offering of entry-level to midrange vehicles was one of the keys to the auction’s success. “The collector car hobby is in the throbbing, and Barrett-Jackson is the catalyst,” said Craig Jackson, chairman and CEO of Barrett-Jackson. “While we continue to offer top-tier cars for seasoned, high profile collectors, who were involved in some spirited bidding, our diverse docket attracts enthusiasts of all ages and levels. An overwhelming percentage of vehicles were sold at No Reserve, which means that honest market values were set this weekend in Reno at Barrett-Jackson.” Jackson again emphasizes the impor-
$100,000 raised for charity Barrett-Jackson has a long tradition of raising money for charity. In Reno, Ford Motor Company and the Darrell Gwynn Foundation auctioned a 2014 Ford Transit Connect Titanium, which will be modified by MobilityWorks for customers who are restricted to a wheelchair. The sale raised $100,000, which will be used by the Darrell Gwynn Foundation to put more children with disabilities into wheelchairs.
